THANK YOU FOR Creating HOMES

your SUPPORT SAVES LIVES

Another year of lasting impacts, thank you!

Because of your support, more than 7,000 people found help at Agate this year.

People came to us for a safe place to stay, a path to finding a home and other care they needed.

Your support makes this work possible. It allows us to be there for people as they take their next step toward a safe and stable home.

In this newsletter, you'll meet Brianna. For years, she searched for a safe place to call home. Today, she has found peace and a new purpose: helping others heal.

Thank you for standing with Brianna and so many of our neighbors as they build a brighter future.

"I have never felt peace. I feel peace here."

Brianna turns healing into purpose

Brianna was searching for more than a place to live. She wanted somewhere she and her family could feel safe.

After losing her job and housing, Brianna was without a home for several years. During much of that time, her daughter had to live with other family. Eventually, Brianna connected with Agate.

Together, she worked through past housing debts and other barriers that stood between her and a home. Her first apartment was an important step. It gave Brianna a place of her own and got her off the street. But over time, problems with the building and safety concerns in the area made it clear that it was not the right fit for her family.

“I worked so hard for an apartment,” Brianna said. “But I told my case manager all the time, I can’t bring my daughter here.”

Agate continued working with Brianna as she looked for a safer home for her family. Today, she shares a home with her daughter and new young son where they can finally feel at peace. “I have never felt peace. I feel peace here,” she said.

That stability has given Brianna space to plan her future. After completing training in Mental Health First Aid and trauma informed care, she plans to go back to school. Her goal is to create a “healing haven” where others can feel supported without judgment.

Because of your support, Brianna can focus on her family, her future and turning her own healing into a way to help others.
